

AN ADDITIONAL FAD

Fads as a rule are short lived, but the souvenir postal card fad seems to have come to stay. Now that it has become universal it is educational. It gives people a chance to look upon scenes that used to require perhaps hundreds and thousands of miles of travel to see. Nearly every city and town in this world gets out series of local view postals. These cards are being constantly exchanged by people at home and those traveling. A collection of is very interesting. If you haven't one, why not begin sending some of our local views to distant friends and get some of their local views in return. The cost is little.

We have a magnificent line of souvenir postals including beautiful local views and all the latest novelties. Come in and look them over.

TURNER GOES AFTER GORE.

Peddling the "Blind Orator's" Texas Speech Over the Indian Territory and Northern Oklahoma.

To prove that "Gas Addicks" Turner has grown desperate in these last hours of the campaign and that he is totally unscrupulous in efforts to vilify and blacken the character of his opponents, it is only necessary to submit this evidence of his manner in attacking Gore, the blind man between whom Roy Hoffman the contest lays for the nomination. Turner and his managers, in their frenzy have made themselves ridiculous by their anonymous, scurrilous and vindictive attacks on Hoffman and they have been routed and driven to cover at every point. They are now turning their attention to Gore, hoping that by quietly circulating these reports where the lawless man will not hear of them until after the election that the "Gas Addicks" candidate will be to gain some of Gore's votes and drive the rest to Naught. There is no decent reason why this attack on Gore should have been held back until the last moment, and there is no excuse for it except that Turner has grown desperate at his losing cause and has concluded to dive deeper into the methods of dirty politics which he has used hitherto exclusively against Hoffman.

Gore does not deny that he made the speech from which the following extract is taken and it would have been more manly if "Gas Addicks" Turner had used it openly in that part of the public press which he claims to have subsidized. The attempt of Millionaire Turner to get himself up with such democratic saints as Governor James S. Hogg of Texas, and Congressman "Dick" Hland of Missouri, as a supporter of Bryan in 1896 is sacrilegious. Turner was at that time a federal appointee serving under Cleveland and was notorious in democratic circles as a Palmer and Buckner sympathizer and a "knocker" on Bryan and free silver.

He is accused of having stated in that campaign that he "wasn't for anybody and wanted to make a power dollar as good as a gold dollar." Turner had grown rich manipulating territorial funds and shoving war-rails as any army of Oklahoma democrats will testify and he used all this to the opportunity extended him under the Cleveland administration. In the light of this history isn't he a pretty mark to be questioning other people's democracy or to be distributing circulars against Gore showing that the blind man was openly fighting Bryan in 1896 while Turner was doing the same thing secretly? Hoffman has proven that he supported Bryan and Callahan in 1896 and that he has always been in line for the party nominees from the good hour he entered public life at the age of eighteen and it would appear to be action that the wily Turner is the only candidate whose political record is in doubt. Here is the subject of the last circular or rather one side of the circular, issued from Turner headquarters. On the other side is Turner's bureau-made platform restrictions. We quote it:

GORE'S ATTITUDE IN 1896.

From a Speech of T. P. Gore Made at the City of Dallas, Texas, in September, 1896, at the City Hall.

(Reported in the Dallas News.) Mr. Gore said: "The trouble with the democratic party is, it is a party of statesmen without statesmanship, of patriots without patriotism, heroes without heroism, and that party's policy when entrusted with power always begets farms without farmers, laborers without labor, and freemen without freedom."

"Who ever heard, anyway, of a democratic platform lasting over two years? Unfortunately, however, the democratic party makes the same declaration in its platform of 1892 so that if you be monarchists and socialists, so are the democrats."

"The republicans stand for principle, though the principle might be wrong, and will always fight you in the open, but the democratic party is Judas-like, it will kiss and betray. I find 125 per cent tariff on tin-plate of iron because if the people purify their blood they will not vote the democratic ticket. I find a duty of 25 per cent on Bibles, and if there is anything a democrat should learn, it is that commandment in the Bible, 'Thou shalt not steal.'"

In that campaign, when Mr. Bryan and the democratic party were struggling against Hanna's avalanche of dollars, such men as M. L. Turner in Oklahoma, J. S. Hogg in Texas, Dick Hland in Missouri and other loyal men in the country were holding up the party's hands, financially and otherwise.

At the same time, Mr. Gore was adding his mite to overthrow the party in Texas, as proven in the Dallas speech, and thousands of good democrats in the state of Texas remember his speeches and attitude in that campaign.—Adv.

LINCOLN CLUB ON RECORD

FAVORING THE REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS BY WHOLESALE.

THE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

At the Meeting Last Night—Would Have Republican Paper Made Official Court Organ for the Southern District.

The Lincoln Republican club desires to be put on record as favoring the removal of restrictions, and if the people of this country expect to get relief they will have to vote the republican ticket as that is the only party that can succeed in securing the removal of restrictions inasmuch as it is the party in power and will perhaps remain in power for some time to come. Resolutions favoring the removal of restrictions, and endorsing the actions of Governor Frantz, and state chairman of the Central Committee, Hammon, who have been in Washington in conference with the secretary of interior discussing the removal of restrictions were adopted. Several of the members of the club joined in the discussion for the adoption of the resolutions introduced by U. S. Attorney Walker, including former U. S. attorney W. B. Johnson, J. W. Harrold, Jake Bodovitz and C. M. Campbell. It was decided to send a copy of the resolution to the secretary of the interior, the president, to Governor Frantz, and Jake Hammon.

On motion of Jake Bodovitz, it was decided to send a committee of five to wait on Judge Townsend and confer with him relative to having the republican paper made the official organ for the Southern District of the Indian Territory. A committee consisting of Stephen Douglas, W. B. Johnson, H. D. Hardie, Sam Noble and O. A. Wells were appointed as that committee.

The entertainment committee for the Governor Frantz reception reported that after all expenses were paid a balance remained on hand in the treasury of two dollars and fifty cents.

The picnic Friday was a success in spite of the bad weather. There were no candidates on the ground, for which we were all truly thankful.

Mrs. Nance of near Enville died Wednesday morning and was buried in the Legate cemetery Thursday afternoon. Rev. Armstrong conducting the funeral services.

Miss Eliza Fitch of Hoxbar visited friends at Legate Sunday.

POINTS TO REMEMBER

Every Appliance
for Woman's Work Should Be the Best for Its Purpose.

There is as great a difference in the cost of making a sewing machine as there is in making a watch. A cheap watch will indicate time with fair accuracy for a short time; fairly good stitching can be done on some of the old patterns of cheap sewing machines when they are new, but they always work hard, are noisy, and soon wear out.

Every Singer and Wheeler & Wilson machine is tested by actual sewing at the factory; it is always ready for every kind of stitching and will do better work and do it longer than any other, because it is of better design and construction.
